MORE HASH.

Associate Editor Farish again nause ates the readers of the Courier with a two-column rehash or former mi-tate

He now says that Gov. Zulick's account of the territorial debt anticipated affairs one year and that the debt would amount to $700,000, Jan. 1st, the democratic administration towards 1887. And to make his figures approx; silver. he includes $25,000 for University pur regents have not yet organized and it is probable that they never will organize and that the bonds will never be issued.

The truth is, that Gov. Zulick made his statements positively at the time and so did the author of the campaign decument "Dimes and Dollars," and that the statements were wilfully untrue and made for partisan purposes. The latest diatribe is simply a repetition of former misrepresentations, taffying Zulick and abusing his predecessors and as the whole business emanates from the governor's office, it can have no weight even with the uninformed whom it is intended to deceive.

The territorial audit it and treasurer have their offices in Prescott and we challenge the associate editor of the Courier to give the exact figures which are easily obtainable and if necessary will be sworn to by those officers.

If he tells the truth now he will have to admit that he has lied formerly in his efforts to injure the territorial credit. The democratic party will never succeed by misrepresenting Gov. Tritle and his administration and they seem to know no other method, neither will the present administration intrench itself with the people by abusing a previous one. Deeds, not words are required of the present officials before they can expect be confidence of the people.

Our contemp, expressed grave fears a few days since that if the office of county treasurer should pass into the hands of any other than E.J. Cook the funds would valley, will add immensely to the whole be used by some bank. In making his suarterly settlements with the board of tupervisors Mr. Cook presented a bank certificate of deposit in lieu of the cash supposed to be in the treasury from which it seems that some bank already enjoys that privilege.

SILVER CALL

The colossal gall depicted in a late Courier leader on the silver question ex of that paper.

The stritude of Cleveland's adminisincomprehensible on any other hypothe. sis than that he attempted a most silly and writched burlesque.

The leading journals of the country of all political complexions will no doubt be thunderstruck to discover in the Courier leader, if by any accident it that they have all been laboring under a ension of the facts.

No one denies that the rank and file of the democracy are favorable to silver. Sofar very few if any will take issue with the associate editor of the Courier, but when the quasi editor assumes that no responsiblity straches to the administration for the late depreciation of silver and the great injury visited upon the miring judustries of the western states and territories he goes so far beyond the limits of truth that his labored effort can only inspire ridicule.

In the outset of his admiristration Mr Cleveland wrote a letter on the silver question which proved him to be undethe influence of the Wall street gold his district, be he democrat or republican bugs; his secretary of the treasury is an that will not support "Capt." Hardy .-acknowledged gold bug, and the efforts of the administration have been consistent throughout against silver; every intelligen reader in the country knows this and repeating such positive evidence is absurdly superfluous. Late dispatches declare that the President is organizing his forces for a more determined and successful onslaught on the favorite currency of the country. It is positively asserted that he has been busily engaged in proselyting southern members to his ideas and it is seclared that he has succeeded in get ing that able democratic senator and stalwart friend of silver, Beck, to modify his views and withdraw his active oppo stion to the demonstization of silver. Grover Cleveland has sent two messages to congress recommending that the coinage of silver be stopped Great Scott, what assurance the Courier writer has to imagine that he can fool even obscure reade;s of that paper of the position of
